

Re: VAVA^{II} – Indonesia 2013 / 2014

“Indonesia stands out as the best destination I have travelled to in 33 years of sailing the World.

Our 2 trips, to the East of Bali and Raja Ampat were completely different and both thoroughly enjoyed by our guests. The scenery is simply stunning and even within a limited geographic area refreshingly different. The local population were very warm and welcoming and genuinely excited to see the Yacht and let us see their World.

It is however not an easy place to work with a myriad of rules and regulations, often peculiar to each port and it was essential to have good local guidance. Lighthouse provided that brilliantly, allowing us to do some incredible things that left our guests delighted each and every day.

Their provisioning service was also excellent and enabled us to maintain the high standard that our guests are used to.

The dilemma we have now is how other trips are going to compare?”
