To whom it may concern.

Andy shorten and his company, the lighthouse consultancy were employed s/y Antares, to look after our interests for a period of two and a half months as our agents and guides and for our Indonesian archipelago tour at the end of 2018,

We arrived in Indonesia with a lot of concerns (of our own doings). We shouldn't have worried. The amount of personal investment and time each and every one of Andy's team members invested in our Indonesian experience prior to our arrival, showed within minutes.

Andy seamlessly shoehorned us into a culture and society that we had no idea even existed. We were introduced to communities of quiet gentle people, with little or no experience of the outside world. The incredible fun and joy of sharing time with the local people will never be forgotten. Obviously Andy and his team's global understanding of the territory, the history, its cultures and the stunning dive sites are second to none.

I feel that all on board now have friends for life, some we have never met, but all made the impossible happen, seamlessly minute-by-minute, day after day.

We also have a huge personal thanks to the company's onboard guide and dive guide, Made is a unique character who quietly slotted into our fulltime live-aboard families life and made the final parts of the miracle really happen.

I have no reservations in recommending Andy and his team of agents and guides for the unique experience that is Indonesian.

Sincere thanks.
